At the age of 17, Towelie woke up on a plane to find his front teeth knocked out and his nose broken. He had no idea where the plane was headed nor any recollection of the past two weeks. An alcoholic for ten years and a crack and marijuana addict for three, he checked into a treatment facility shortly after landing. There he was told he could either stop using or die before he reached age 18. This is Towelie's acclaimed account of his birth as genetically engineered Smart Person RG-400, his subsequent escape from the Tynacorp laboratory, and his road to recovery from his many addictions, as a human.

I cannot believe a person has lived this life

By Peter

It's heartbreaking passages like this one, that show the depth and suffering the author has gone through: "I am a person who often gets hung out to dry by all those around me."

Electrifying

By Frank P

A Million Little Fibers is an ideological mess, a paranoid right-wing fantasy masquerading as an Orwellian warning. It pretends to oppose the police state and forced mind control, but all it really does is celebrate the nastiness of its hero, Towelie. Fascinating and Disturbing.

I was gonna clean my room until I got high ...

By T.Y.

I was gonna clean my room until I got high

I was gonna get up and find the broom but then I got high

My room is still messed up and I know why

'Cause I got high

I was gonna go to class before I got high

I coulda cheated and I coulda passed but I got high

I am taking it next semester and I know why

'Cause I got high

Because I got high

Because I got high

I was gonna go to work but then I got high

I just got a new promotion but I got high

Now I'm selling dope and I know why
'Cause I got high
Because I got high
Because I got high
I was gonna go to court before I got high
I was gonna pay my child support but then I got high
They took my whole paycheck and I know why
'Cause I got high
Because I got high
Because I got high
